How can this data be used?

• Student surveys are indirect measures of student learning
• Indirect measures of student learning are used to supplement direct measures to provide a more comprehensive view of student learning
• Gain a better understanding of how students feel about what they know
  • Perceptions
  • Self-assessments
• Provides additional information to trends seen in direct measures
Data Requests  michelle.chavez@unlv.edu or 5-1408

• The Graduating Senior Exit Survey (GSES) and the Learning Outcomes Survey (LOS) drill down to the program level.
• We are able to provide reports for colleges/programs with a similar format as the university-wide reports on request
  • Raw data for specific colleges/programs are available on request
